Success is ... having friends

The class of 1982 entered high school with new dreams for the future. For some, these dreams included college; for others, a position in a field of their choice. But for all, these dreams included a successful and memorable high school career.

At first things were difficult; as sophomores we were overcome by the amount of work expected of us, and we felt unimportant for we were the youngest class in the school. But as we began to grow and mature, we began to enjoy the many new experiences and new freedoms that we encountered, and we learned to cope with our numerous responsibilities. We realized that we were all in this endeavor together and that only by cooperating, by accepting each other and by working as a group could we get through successfully.

We shared the good times along with the bad ones: the parties, vacations, and "free" times as well as the exams, homework, and job experiences. We laughed together and cried together . . . and became friends; friends that shared hopes for the present and dreams for the future. We formed a tightly knit group, protective of one another and ready to take on the world. We were invincible.

... showing pride in our work

By the end of our junior year, all of our experiences, our determination, and our hard work, became evident. Our class, the W.H.S. class of '82, had begun to reach new heights. More students in our class had qualified as national merit candidates than in previous years. Our soccer and tennis teams had won state titles. Overall, our sports teams had placed 4th in our division, the best showing in our school's history. We had sponsored successful class functions which had helped the students grow closely together. We had come to understand each others' problems, needs, and desires and had begun to work together to solve these problems as we prepared to enter our final year at W.H.S.

Realizing that this would be our last year together, we vowed to make it the best and not to let our responsibilities and problems weigh too heavily on us. We knew it would not be easy, but we realized that we had the potential to be the best class academically, athletically, and socially that W.H.S. had ever graduated. As our senior year began, we set out to reach new heights: to be better than those who came before us, both individually and as a class. We began to understand that our dreams were within our reach and that if we retained faith in ourselves we could rise above our limitations and realize these dreams.

Reaching new heights and setting trends has become a trademark of the class of 1982. The hopes and dreams which were so tentative when we first entered the high school as sophomores are now a reality. During the three years we have spent together, we have not only grown academically, but creatively as well. There have never been higher goals than those we have set both for ourselves and for our school. We, the class of 1982, leave Winchester High School secure in the knowledge that we can continue to strive and achieve even greater accomplishments in our future than we have in our past.

SENIORS

Senioritis

Our high school years have been a time of rapid growth in both physical and mental abilities. For some, the years have been marked by achievements and growing maturity; for others they have been filled with desires and dreams. For all of us it has been a period of good times, close friendships, and fond memories. Each one as an individual has followed his own trail, enriched and achieved some measure of success.

Together we are the class '82 — proud of our past, eagerly awaiting our future. We will build that future on the solid foundation we have developed at Winchester High School.

Pride in our past; faith in our future.

Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen provide the pride and spirit that allow Winchester High School to reach new heights in all areas of school life, both academic as well as extra-curricular. Their combination of talents and skill results in a well-rounded student body with unlimited capabilities.

Winchester High's second freshman class entered the school in September and faced many challenges and responsibilities. The Sophomores, no longer the youngest and least experienced, advanced in the school's heirarchy.

Their contributions to our athletic teams and activities have been consistently outstanding. Juniors entered their most important year, eager to succeed both athletically and scholastically, anticipating their eventual role as leaders of the school.

Each student changes as he passes through Winchester High School. He grows and matures into a young adult capable of making his own decisions and in so doing gains confidence in his own ability to set new goals and reach new heights.

UNDERCLASSMEN

FRESHMEN

Showtime!

The freshmen entered their first year at W.H.S. with new hopes and aspirations for the future. They knew little about the high school, but soon accepted the many new challenges that faced them. As they adjusted to the new environment of the high school, they gained confidence in themselves and in their abilities.

Through their participation in clubs and other extracurricular activities, the freshmen expanded their social life and gained many new skills in dealing with people and responsibilities. Some even became officers in many clubs. Sports also provided the freshmen with an opportunity to relax and explore their athletic potential. Although few made varsity teams, all enjoyed themselves and gained experience necessary for their future.

The freshman year was a learning experience for everyone; one which gave the newcomers a chance to set their goals and to reach for them.

SOPHOMORES

Already familiar with the school system, the sophomores returned back to WHS in September with excitement and anticipation of the year ahead. Although being a sophomore wasn't as important as being a senior, the class still had a difficult but enjoyable year. The hardest thing that faced many sophomores was trying to achieve the goals that pleased their teachers, peers, parents, and most importantly, themselves.

Although the sophomore class made up only a small portion of the student body, its members contributed talent and enthusiasm to the various athletic teams, clubs, and other extracurricular activities. Under the supervision of the sophomore class officers, a Class Spirit Day was organized before the Thanksgiving Day football game. With encouragement, many of the students wore red and black clothing on this day to add to the Sachem spirit. The sophomores were also recognized this year for having the most participants in the first annual Class Clean-Up Day. The sophomores also had a successful year with fundraisers. At a few of the football games, students from this class sold carnations to a great number of Sachem football fans. This activity was not only profitable, but also served to create considerable spirit within the crowd.

Not only were the sophomores involved in class activities, but many of them demonstrated their talents and commitment on the athletic teams. The teams probably could not have functioned as they did without the dedication and good sportsmanship that the sophomores provided.

For the class of 1984, this year was only a beginning. Between now and the time of their graduation, new dreams will develop, new talents will be discovered and most of all, new heights will be reached.

Look out ... Here we are!

Sophomores are trying to act smart again!

Wake up Katie! He isn't that boring, is he??

Don't ask me! I wasn't listening either!

JUNIORS

So I sez ta Gertrude . . .

Looking back, the juniors can say that 1981-82 was a great year. Despite the heavy load of school-work, and the worry over PSAT's, SAT's, and other examinations, the junior class continued to engage in many extra curricular activities. They began to assume new responsibilities, to make college plans, and to seek employment.

In sports their year began well. Becoming a varsity team member finally became a reality, not a continuing dream. Many of Winchester High's teams relied on the contributions of talented juniors to bring about their victories. This combined effort helped provide the school with a winning season.

Some of the major social events of this year included the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, and the Junior Prom. These events brought the class together and increased its spirit.

Juniors also made significant contributions to the various clubs at W.H.S.

The Curtain and Cue Productions, the Aberjona, and the Red and Black are three such clubs. Participation in these academic and extracurricular activities helped the juniors to achieve new heights and made their year worthwhile.

Looking forward to their final year at W.H.S., the juniors struggle to overcome the many new challenges they encounter, as they begin to prepare for their future.

Happiness is being an Underclassman!

The faculty members at Winchester High School have made a supreme contribution to our intellectual and personal growth. As teachers, coaches and activities' advisors, they have creatively tried to inspire us to maximize our potential worth and understanding. Many of the teachers have gone beyond their professional duties to help students with problems, both classroom related and personal, as they arise in everyday life.

For the ability to reach and communicate, for motivation and inspiration, and the intellectual challenge that allowed the Class of '82 to reach new heights, we thank you.

To the Class of 1982:

Graduation is a time when I would like to share so many thoughts with you; my thoughts of encouragement and my thoughts of despair, your dreams and hopes for the future.

As a parent of a senior, I would like to bring you close to protect you from having to grow up, but, obviously, I can't do that. I would like to protect you from the hurt and I would like to share with you those moments when things go well. I would like to say that tomorrow is going to be a glorious day and that all your fears are unfounded, but I can't really say that either.

What I can say, however, is that what you are facing is a part of the growth process and, while not easy, nothing is ever as bad as it seems. What I can also say is that I have faith in you and the millions just like you who will make the world of the future just a little better place to live in. What I can also say to you is that if I am needed may I always be available to help you and stand by you.

Good luck!

Sincerely,

Umes 15 Liver

GUIDANCE

ANTHONY N. DEBIASE, Department Head B.A., Boston University, M.A.T., Harvard University

Throughout the 1982 year the guidance counselors worked steadily directing the students in their ability to form judgements about their capabilities, interests, and achievements. They aided each student in his course selection and resolved scheduling conflicts to make the year more enjoyable. Often the counselors assisted students in solving personal problems as well. Their abilities to listen and communicate are vitally important to students whether they are seniors or ninth graders. Guidance prepared each class for the future both with group oriented programs and individual conferences.

To the dedicated members of the guidance department, we the class of 1982 express our appreciation.

Without the five professional women who work in the office, Winchester High School could be in a chaotic state. These very busy women are responsible for the effective operation of the school on a day-to-day basis. Mrs. Grueter is the office secretary and its director and coordinator. Mrs. Gardner is Mr. Larocco's private secretary. Mrs. Stevens keeps track of all the money that goes in and out of the school. The Registrar, Mrs. Hayden, tabulates the students' absentees and tardies, and supervises the withdrawal and admission of students leaving and entering school. The Receptionist, Mrs. Jacobs, takes telephone calls, types the absentee and announcement sheets, and sells lunch tickets. In addition, Mrs. Sullivan, R.N. is in the health room each morning to aid and advise students who are

The student Union Office is located in the library, as well as an activities bulletin board with a schedule of high school events. Our Resource Room has a new look, new staff, and new philosophy this year — but its purpose remains the same; to give that additional help in specialized areas to those students who, for one reason or another find it difficult to learn by the regular methods, or in the regular environment. It gives us a tremendous amount of pride and pleasure to see those of you who have needed some special help, graduate and go on to new and better things.

The Career-Life Information Program is now in its sixth year. The morning part of the program, periods 1-4, is for improving the academic skills that students will need following graduation. Also, included in the morning session is a Career Education component which covers areas ranging from deciding what kind of work one wants, to how to advance in one's chosen field. The students have two choices for their afternoon program. They can choose between a work experience or tak-

The goal of the English department is to help each student develop his potential to communicate and to think. To that end, every instructional program in the department provides an opportunity for the students and the teacher to interact as they focus on such communication skills as reading, writing, listening, comparing, contrasting, inferring, generalizing, hypothesizing, and predicting. Because teachers want students to become independent learners, they place emphasis on the process of learning and the development of study skills. Through a variety of approaches to learning — including problem solving, laboratory experiences, and independent study — each student has an opportunity to deal with abstractions, develop and test ideas, and bring personal meaning into concrete experiences.

"Learn another language, and reach out to the rest of the world." Students at Winchester High School are heeding the call. Many students continue French or Spanish from grade 7 through 12, and cap their high school course with a successful performance on the Advanced Placement exam. German, Italian, and Latin are extremely popular among high school students. Many students study two languages at the same time, and some even take three at once (a scheduling problem, but with motivated students, nothing is impossible.)

Our language clubs and our exchange programs expand our language offerings beyond the classroom and into the world. Languages may be declining in many areas of this country (witness the report of the President's commission) but here in Wincehster they are alive and well.

The Winchester Science Program places emphasis on what is called the inquiry approach, which provides opportunities for students to "discover" key concepts and relationships through hands-on experiences. There are many reasons for such an emphasis.

Laboratory work provides personal exper-

Laboratory work provides personal experiences for students. The programs are designed so that important information has to come from the lab, and students are expected to be able to answer questions on the basis of their observations and experiments. The laboratory experiences provides information that is almost impossible to convey in a textbook. Also, the laboratory requires activity of students in a time when many young people lead increasingly passive lives. It provides a challenge. Scientific observations and experiments frequently show the limitations and uncertainties of scientific procedures. An inquisitive student will search for these causes, and it will lead to a deeper understanding of the phenomenon. Lastly, most students find that laboratory work is fun. The seemingly endless pattern of classroom recitation is broken by this unique opportunity.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics is the logical study of shape, arrangement, quantity, and related concepts. It is the foundation for the study of the sciences, of finance, and of practical everyday living. The principles and concepts learned in mathematics serve as tools in the fields of physics, chemistry, engineering, biology, social studies, brokerage, banking, insurance, and many more.

At Winchester High we offer courses to meet the needs of every student, from Basic Math to Advanced Placement Calculus, plus such courses as Computer Science.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Social Studies: the department that lists history, geography, economics, political science, psychology, anthropology, and sociology among the disciplines that make up its courses. This is the area that examines the present in the light of the past and projects into the future. Our goal is to build an appreciation of things from the Pleistocene to the Twenty-first century, from the classical to the medieval and to educate the modern student to be a wise consumer, an astute voter, and a citizen knowledgeable about the country and the world.

This year's graduates experienced courses in social studies that included: Ancient History, Consumer Economics, Comparative Political Systems, American Studies, Economics, Psychology, Advance Placement Histroy, Issues of the 80's and Humanities. They had electives in Black History, Sport and Society, European History, Justice in America, Cultural Reflections, Urban America and the Future. Even in the school year 1981-82 the social studies program is changing. In the year 2002, on the occasion of the twentieth reunion of this class, what will the school and its social studies curriculum look like?

The enthusiastic spirit of the WHS Music Department has been evident throughout the year. The Band's many early morning reheasals resulted in great half-time shows at the football games. The orchestra, concert choir and band have all been diligent in their preparation for their special concerts.

After making the "dream" of new band uniforms a reality, the department's challenge this year is to renew the Exchange Concert. A successful cheese and sausage sale was conducted in the Fall, and a trip to Glasboro, New Jersey is well in sight.

ART

The Art Department offers creative and structured experiences which meet both the varied interests and skills of the students. After completing Art I, students may take Advanced Art for as many as three consecutive years. To meet the needs of these students the art courses must be different every year. To enable students with heavy schedules to take art, a semester course in art has been added to the curriculum.

HOME

This year the Home Economics Department was awarded a Federal Grant for a Child Study Program in conjunction with the Early Childhood Course. Students have the opportunity to work with children ages one to five in order to more fully understand and observe the physical, mental, social and emotional aspects of growth. The Food and Nutrition courses and Clothing and Fashion continue to be an important part of our curriculum, with emphasis on good time and money management of resources. The Human Development Program helps students to understand themselves and their relationships with others. We are most interested in helping students gain confidence in life skills, skills which can be further developed through life.

Industrial Arts Education is a concentrated and specialized study of technical courses. Students exhibit a wide range of interests, abilities, and life goals. The Industrial Arts Program separates courses or instruction within courses that can be pre-vocational for some, technical for others, and pre-professional for still others. It is here where students learn about the problems and benefits resulting from the industrial and technological nature of society.

The Business Education Department is helping students keep up with the rapid pace of technology. Around the department you have probably noticed or worked on word processors, memory typewriters, and micro computers. Along with clerical skills, accounting, and business-related courses, many college-bound students have enhanced their skills by taking typewriting courses for personal and professional use.

In addition, a Federal Grant allowed the department to develop a skills lab with emphasis on individualization.

"We don't need no education ..." — P.F.

Increased Sachem spirit and team pride produced a sports season unlike any other. Sachem athletes were willing to unite their forces in an attempt to reach both individual aspirations and the aspirations of their team. The spirit and dedication created on the first day of practice continued to grow as the season progressed, enabling W.H.S. athletes to expand in many directions. Growth among Sachem athletes included smaller, individual accomplishments, as well as the accomplishments of league champion teams.

But victory was not the only method of Sachem expansion and growth. W.H.S. athletes learned through defeat that working hard and giving one hundred percent all of the time was just as important as the final outcome of any game. In this way, Sachem athletes were able to learn their individual limitations and expand upon them.

Along with team growth and dedication, the Tumblettes, Cheerleaders, Band, and fans provided additional support for the athletes. As a result of this great enthusiasm, the sports season was a successful and enjoyable one. But in the end it was the Sachem spirit and dedication that enabled W.H.S. athletes to reach new heights in sportsmanship and athletic ability.

In Appreciation . . .

"If you can give a little more than other fellows and keep on trying though you're tired yet, make not public all your efforts nor hold them of account to be admired . . .

If you can dream and plan and struggle And keep on when lesser men give in — you will have learned the Noble Art of Manhood And what's more, my son, you're bound to win!"

- R. Loveland

Mr. Marshall is a man who truly has given "... a little more than other fellows...". He has given us understanding and inspiration as well as guidance and support. He has shown unending concern for our development and has helped us to reach our goals. As head football coach, he has given nearly two decades of his time and energy towards making our team the championship squad it is today. As a teacher, he has helped us to develop new athletic skills and to sharpen our old ones. He has shown interest in our present lives and concern for our futures. He has been more than just our teacher and our coach; he has been our friend. In appreciation of the guidance, understanding and sincere friendship you have shown us all, we the class of 1982, dedicate to you our yearbook.

... in action!

The 1981 Sachem football season was full of excitement and emotion. After suffering two surprising defeats, the Sachems found themselves with their backs to the wall and the toughest part of their season ahead. They made an incredible comeback, however, winning their next three games against formidable opponents. The only obstacle remaining in the Sachem warpath was the arch-rival Woburn. When the traditional turkey day game was over, Winchester walked away with a piece of the Middlesex League Crown. This was the first time since 1971 that W.H.S. had had a championship team.

The Sachem offense, led by super half-back Steve Costello, stacked up more points than any other Middlesex team. Other key offensive players were seniors Jeff Stackpole, Rich Fennell, and Bill Ferry, and junior Chris Cahill. The punishing defense was led by King Kong Kenyon and junior Tom Porell. This dominating "D" held four of its ten opponents scoreless, and was the first to shut down the Tanners in 39 games.

Great appreciation goes to Head Coach Manny Marshall and the entire team coaching staff for their long hours of hard work. Good luck to next year's team. Thank you to all our fans and supporters.

Girls Take it on the Run

The 1981 girls' cross-country team again proved to be one of the strongest teams in the league. Their near perfect season was marred only by a loss to a strong Wakefield club. Co-captains Eileen Conley and Adena Shutzberg provided leadership which was all-important considering the team was comprised mainly of underclassmen. Fortunately, the team was able to progress quickly, and therefore became one of the biggest contenders in the league. The Sachemettes were most dangerous when they united and formed a tight, competitive pack, consisting of the captains, Laurie Glynn (of course), Beth Nowell, Barbara Ahearn, Martha Davis, Sandy Jordan, Nancy Haily, Dawn Ponti, and many others.

The team went on to state competition, and finished fifth overall, with Laurie Glynn taking first place. In the League Meet, Laurie again placed first, and Eileen took third. In addition, Laurie, Eileen, and Beth Nowell were chosen as All-Stars for the 1981 season.

Without the dedication of coaches Mr. Cantillon and Mr. Maloney, the team's success would not have been possible. These coaches must be credited with enabling the girls to get through all those quarter miles around the track — the hard training that really paid off in the end. Since the team will lose only two runners this year, next year's season looks quite promising. Keep it up! Good luck, and beat Wakefield next year!

Harriers Excel

The 1981 boys' cross-country team enjoyed their finest season in ten years under coaches Cantillon and Maloney. The team finished third in the league with a 7-2 record, spotted only by losses to Wakefield and Reading. Cocaptains Pat Kennedy and Joe (Dude) Callahan led the team to close victories over Burlington and Melrose. Other contributing seniors included Frank Carrerra, Erik Johnson, Steve Kelly, Tom Kerrigan, and Tom Marincic.

Many individual as well as team honors were won by the 1981 squad. Pat Kennedy and Barry Sirchis finished 2-3 in the League Meet, and the latter set a new Winchester High Course record. The team did surprisingly well in the states, and Kennedy qualified to run in the meet replacing the All-States. The team looks forward to carry on their winning ways next year, with juniors Sean Flynn, John Kacayonis, Terry Skahan and Hugh Murray. Also returning are promising sophomores Barry Sirchis and Gary Ducharme.

The team will never forget: . . . 007 runs again!, Reading still owes us the barrel, is silver still running?, Frank and his surfboard (soar foot), "This is the most important decision of my life" — make me sick, and the Belmont entourage. The Winchester High Field Hockey Team has completed another season filled with fun, effort, and loads of spirit. Unfortunately, their record of 2-11-5 did not display the effort and skill that they possessed. With the addition of a dozen freshmen, this fall the team grew to a total of thirty-four players, and hopes to continue to grow in the future. Captains Martha Doherty and Leanne Buehler did a fine job of keeping the team together, both on and off the field.

Spirit was the key to their success. The girls never lost their spirit, and entered each game with a positive outlook. They kept together by having parties, whether it be for breakfast or dinner, or by decorating each others houses and the girl's locker room. In addition, pumpkin stickers, which were awarded to goal scorers, were proudly displayed on the sticks all season.

Thus, the girls were dubbed by their coach as the "most together" team she'd ever had. Many thanks to Coach Ryser and Coach Keefe. The 'Mettes will always remember the good times: "Circle Up!", Pumpkin Power, Feathers, the Aussie, Arthur and special tunes, Zelda and Mabel, closet women, Miss Danvers and scrapbooks.

Co-Champs

Once again the Winchester High School boy's soccer team enjoyed a successful season. Led by co-captains Mark Steranka and Paul Williamson, the team finished league play in third place with a 14-2-2 record and a state tournament berth. After passing by Shawsheen 4-1 and edging Andover 2-1, the boys faced Wakefield, the only team to beat the Sachems in league action, to determine who would go on to the north finals. Taking control from the start, Winchester never looked back and went on to a 3-1 victory. In the soccer team's first-ever appearance in the finals, Coach Bouley's team was declared co-champions after two scoreless overtime periods. Players such as David Suvak, Laszlo VonLazar, Brian Guarnotta, Eric Lowenstein, and Steve Driscoll were important factors in the team's success, finishing the season with a 17-2-3 overall record. This was a highly skilled team, and when the time came for the boys to prove themselves in the tournament, they did so with enthusiasm and determination.

Many thanks to Coach Bouley and all our supporters. Good Luck to next year's team.

The Perfect Season

This year the girls' varsity soccer team continued the tradition set by previous capturing the Middlesex teams, League Championship and continuing play in the state tournament. But this year, the girls reached new heights, by completing a perfect season. Having lost seven starters, including five allstars, coach Chris Scanlon believed this would be a rebuilding year. As the wins began to stack up however, Mr. Scanlon realized the team was the best he'd ever coached. So, the girls practiced more than any other fall team, through the rain, cold, and darkness, always with the state championship on their mind. The girls were again robbed of this state title however, in the semifinals. Although the loss was disappointing, Mr. Scanlon assured the girls that their effort, determination, and spirit were more important.

We cannot thank Mr. Scanlon enough for his time, energy and dedication throughout the season. He served not only as a coach, but also as a true friend for each girl. Without him, the soccer team just wouldn't be the same.

We would also like to thank our assistant-coach Miss Denise Driscoll, parents, and fans for their support. Soccer luck to next year's team.

Swimmers Take Your Mark . . .

This year's girls' swim team finished its season with a 7-5-0 record. Winning their first three meets, the Sachemettes went undefeated until they faced the league champions, Acton-Boxboro. Only temporarily thwarted by this defeat, the girls made an incredible comeback winning the last three meets of the season by large margins.

This year's team was smaller than last year's, as 5:00 a.m. practices in the 65° pool tended to discourage all but the most dedicated (or slightly insane) swimmers. Despite the team's small number, it lacked neither depth nor spirit. Led by tri-captains P.K. Porter, Carol Schneller, and Lynn VanUmmersen, the Sachemettes out-cheered many opponents; spirit was the key to their victory.

The entire team would like to thank coach Palumbo, who got up at 4:15 every morning to coach them. They thank him for his dedication; without him there would not have been a high school swim team.

Congratulations Vinnie and Carol, and good luck to next year's team.

Cheerleaders Add Spirit

The 1981 fall cheerleaders have continued to provide enthusiasm and spirit to Sachem athletes and fans alike. In addition to cheering for successful seasons of football and soccer, this year's cheerleaders have supported girls' soccer, boys' and girls' crosscountry, and field hockey teams. This new accomplishment reveals the true school spirit felt by Winchester High

Under the leadership of Barbie Coughlin and Nancy Monteith, the girls have left a trail of toilet-paperings and dummy-burnings not to be forgotten. The cheerleaders will always remember taping at 3:00 a.m., camp, breakfasts, and the night the volk broke.

Tumblers Roll Out Spirit

The 1981 Tumblettes have bent over backwards to provide school spirit and enthusiasm at Sachem football games. Their traditional pyramids and gymnastic maneuvers have continued to entertain the crowds during their half-time routines.

This was the first year that the Tumblettes incorporated the use of flags into many of their routines. Under the leadership of Miss Miller, the girls were able to coordinate their routines with those of the band as never before. These additions enabled the Tumblettes to really dazzle the crowds and bring out Sachem Spirit.

The Tumblettes will never forget 6:50 AM band practice, breakfasts, pre-night game activities, toilet-papering on Thanksgiving Eve, and their good friend D.P.

Many thanks to mascots Jenny and Jeanie, Mr. Hacket, Miss Miller, and the entire band. A special thanks to Mr. Manganaro.

Girls Shoot for the States

The Sachemette basketball team had a very successful season this year. With the strong guidance of new coach Joe DiSarcina, the girls improved tremendously over last year's record. Outstanding seniors included co-captains Martha Doherty and Hilary Bradshaw, Margaret Dokus, Kathy Mangano and Namorya Nelson. In addition, the team utilized the talents of some fine juniors: Maria Montuori, Kim Donlon, and Jeanine Chicourrat. Throughout the season the girls maintained a high level of enthusiasm, skill, and team spirit. They met each game with determination and a positive attitude. With many returning players, next year's team looks promising — Best of luck in '83!

Boys Improve Record

The 1981-2 Sachems basketball team sported a better record than that of the last few years. Three experienced seniors, including co-captains Keith McCarthy and Ivan Adler, and Ervin Beeman, used their experience to provide guidance for the young team. Juniors made tremendous contributions, with Tim Hoffman and John Myers starting in the backcourt, and Steve MacDonald, Chip Triglione and John Shirley helping in the frontcourt.

A highpoint of the season was when Winchester beat Lexington in the final seconds of play, thanks to a 15 foot turn-around jump shot at the buzzer! With the strong group of juniors returning, next year's season promises to be exciting! Good Luck!

Girls Leap Through Season

This year's gymnastics season was a very fulfilling one for the Sachemettes. Although their record was 4-8, the team improved with each meet. This year's team was a very young one with only three returning veterans and one returning senior. Patty McCabe captained the team, performing on the parallel bars and the balance beam. Pam Getson, Cathy Skahan, and Donna Ralphs also proved to be strong assets to the team. In addition to many new members, the team also had a new coach, Miss Carla Saunders. Formerly a coach in Peabody, she brought many new ideas for the girl's routines. With the experience gained this year, next year's season should be even more successful.

Many thanks to Coach Saunders. Good luck to next year's team!

Boys Roll Through Season

Gymnastics is an individualized sport challenging one's strength, balance, and self-reliance.

W.H.S.'s novice team has met many personal challenges this year, and has sufficient training and experience to raise it's competitive level in 1983. Senior co-captain Roland Loor has contributed significantly for two years, competing on floor exercise, side horse, high bar, and still rings. Junior co-captain James Waite and junior Michael Driscoll have provided the backbone of this year's team. The boys hope to improve their record next year when the team's many underclassmen will have the benefits of a years experience.

Many thanks to Coach Hood for all his work. Good luck to next year's team!

Pucksters Stick To It

This was supposed to be the big year for hockey at Winchester High School. The team shined with many aggressive seniors who have been teammates and good friends since they began skating.

The team showed great promise, having always placed first, second, or third in the youth hockey league. This season however, the team was not the powerhouse that everyone expected. Having won only five of their first fourteen games, the Sachems once again struggled to place mid-way in the high school hockey ratings.

Many thanks to Mr. Kevin Chrusz and Coach Houghton for all they did for us. A special thanks to the boys themselves for much hard work and patience through times of frustration. The team was captained by Steve Marino, Tony Celli, Bill Ferry, Tom Mahoney, Mike Surabian, and was saved many times by goalie Bob Giarizzo.

Better luck to next year's team.

Sachem Swimmers Make Waves

Sachem swimmers experienced their most exciting and successful season in several years. Led by co-captains Mike Guarnacci and Bob McGillicuddy, the team achieved a 10-1 record, with the only loss coming from their league arch-rival Belmont.

The team practiced every morning from 5:00AM to 6:30AM during which time each swimmer gave his all. The returning swimmers were greatly encouraged by the new and high spirited freshman, who added depth and increased the squad to seventeen.

Thanks to Mr. Palumbo for his patience and help on those mornings when no one wanted to swim. Good luck to next year's swimmers!

Tracksters Make Great Strides

The indoor track teams continued the Winchester tradition of excellence this year, compiling records of 6-2 and 5-1 for the boys and girls, respectively.

The boys' team, lead by co-captains Paul Manganaro and Albert Chen, was in contention for the league title throughout most of the season. Their only losses went to Woburn and the eventual league champion, Reading. After many years of mediocrity, Coach Tom Kline built this year's team into a league powerhouse.

The team consisted mainly of upperclassmen who will be sorely missed. School records were shattered by Paul Manganaro in the shot put, and Pat Kennedy in the 2-mile. Other outstanding performers included: Albert Chen and Greg Kirk in the 600, Scott Bowen in the 300, Chuck Kenyon and Jeff Lavey in the shot, and Joe Waite in the high jump.

Underclassmen also played a major role in the team's success this year. Sophomores Mark Herlihy and Bill Derry were among the league's best in the mile and 2-mile, respectively. Kevin Driscoll and John Kacoyanis also made valuable contributions.

The girls nearly regained the Middlesex League Crown, but were defeated in an incredibly close meet to their arch-rivals, Reading. Nonetheless, the girls had an excellent season, filled with fun, especially at the numerous parties organized by co-captains Suzanne Virnelli and Eileen Conley.

Suzanne set school records in the 600 and the 1000, and also contributed points in the high jump and relay. Eileen, in turn, strolled by her competition in the 2-mile. Other outstanding seniors included Averil Svahn in the shot, Missy Meade in the 300, and Alesia Tringale in the high jump.

Many underclassmen provided the support and depth essential for victory. These included: Sheila Connolly, Laura Weylman, Laurie Glynn, Margaret Matheson, Jacqui Burke, Karen Twitchell, Diane Aronson and Laura Miller.

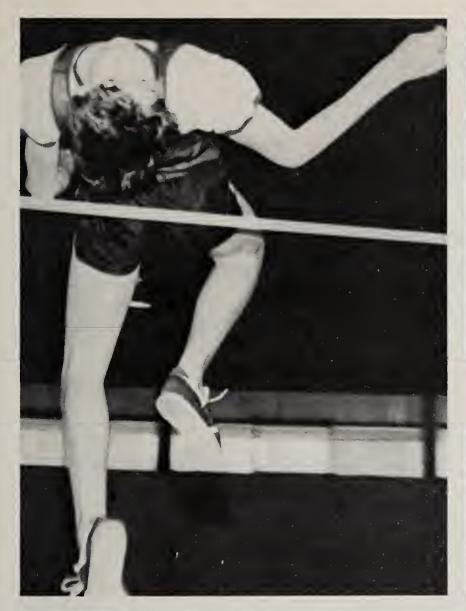

The teams would like to thank the coaches for their dedication that made the season so successful. Since the tracksters improved throughout the season with great strides, the next year's team will probably be just as strong. Good Luck!

Sachem Matmen Strangle Opponents

The wrestling team continued to improve this year, the third year in a row that the team has improved their record. Much of the reason for the wrestling team's success lies in the excellent coaching of Larry Tremblay. Tremblay arrived in Winchester a year ago and has converted a losing team into a respected one.

Another reason for the wrestling team's success has been a strong nucleus of third-year senior wrestlers. Ed Welch, Scott Carzo, Tom Gibbons, Paul Bingle, Jim Barger, and Mark Johnson all won the majority of their matches this year. Seniors Eric Paskerian, Robert Addie, Chris D'Errico, and David Hirt have also contributed to the success of the team.

A factor that has made Winchester strong this year and will continue to in the future is the performance of underclassman wrestlers. Junior Roger Baldacci has been the premier underclassman wrestler compiling a record consisting of only two losses. Freshman Charlie Cowens showed great potential, wrestling varsity this year. Sophomore Chris Farrar and junior Steven Yamani also wrestled well for the varsity team.

Many thanks to coaches Tremblay and Neil. The best of luck to next year's team!

The activities at W.H.S. are a unique blend of the personal interests and student goals. For many students, activities are an important aspect of their high school experience; whether it be an early morning band practice or dinner with the Latin Club. There is a club for most interests, ranging from the Computer Club to the newly formed Sailing Club, and from Creative Writing to the Spanish Club. Membership allows the student to meet new people, gain new insights, and have a good time. In many aspects, activities help the student to attain new heights, both in personal awareness and achievement.

Bottom rt.: Barbara, J.K. wants to apoligize. — B. Hallisev

When the 1982 Aberjona staff assembled in the fall of 1981, we had many new ideas and suggestions for the 1982 yearbook. A theme was quickly developed and before we knew it we had almost missed our first deadline — the 16 color pages that constitute the yearbook's opening. But an allnight work session pulled it out and Purolator Currier got it to Gettysburg on time. Well from then on things got hectic. Each deadline grew in size and appeared out of nowhere just when we were unprepared. But we persevered and struggled through these difficult times. We learned new skills, made new friends, and produced a yearbook full of precious memories.

The 1982 editors will always remember: Banging on the windows of Home Ec.; cutting the color pictures; "Hatchet man . . . "; someone has to pick up pictures at Burlington . . .; What is our status here?; The Fishbowl Taxi Service; We don't have any pictures!; Blurbs, our third language; Where's the white-out?; Mega-eraser!;

Barbara, not now!; Let's get on task; AA changes — try to keep it reasonable; Underline it — if you want it centered?; Relax Mr. Kozak, your face is twitching; "Cheesecake", now that's a good song; When's John coming?; Can you even handle this?; Why are we here?; Spare me!

The 1982 editors would like to thank their faithful typing staff; their photographers — Barbara Hallisey, Joe Reid, David Budd; and all of the faculty members, parents, and friends who helped and supported us throughout the year. Special thanks to Marilyn for her beautiful calligraphy work, and to Barbara and her darkroom for supplementing the "quality" work Burlington Studios provided us and bailing us out when we were short on time. And finally we would all like to thank our advisor, Mr. Kozak, for his "help" with this "UNIT", and our business adviser, Miss Cordeiro, for her sales promotion and fund-raising ideas. We wish the 1983 editors good luck and leave them this essential information: the Woburn post office (on Washington St., near Bradlees) has an Express Mail Service, which guarantees 24 hour delivery anywhere in the United States.

The Pulitzer Press?

The 1981-82 staff of the Red and Black has maintained award-winning standards of news reporting and production of the Red and Black as in the past. Improved layouts, strong editorials, editional cartoons, and controversial articles have all added to the strength of the paper this year.

In addition to improving the Red and Black, the staff has been concerned with fund raising. After the passage of proposition 2.5 in the fall of 1980, the Red and Black has been entirely self-sufficient for the first time in its history. To raise money, the staff sold Winchester sweatshirts and more Winchester sweatshirts! The staff's great effort paid off, however. The community's response to the plight of the Red and Black was an extremely positive one; through their generosity, Winchester residents proved how much they valued and cared about the newspaper. The staff would like to thank all these people who helped the Red and Black out of its financial difficulties.

All-in-all, the Red and Black has had a very successful year. The interest and appreciation of everyone made all the work worthwhile!

The Spanish Club, which consisted of approximately fifty members had a very successful year under the advisement of Miss Alvarez. In late September, the club started off the year with the election of club officers; Leanne Buehler-President, Ervin Beeman-VicePresident, Martha Doherty-Treasurer, Mimi Macnamara and Kristen Kelly-Secretaries. In the fall, the club participated in the inter-club Halloween party and attended the Whole World Celabration. The Spanish Club ended 1981 by attending a Christmas party at the University of Massachusetts in Boston. Within the next five months the club participated in such diverse activities as a visit to a Spanish and Mexican restaurant, a slide and lecture presentation by Amigos de Las Americas, and a part in the International Festival at the High School. The Spanish Club finished up a very productive year by having a party in mid-June. Good luck to next year's Spanish Club.

Friends, Romans, Countrymen . . .

The Latin Club had a very successful year, as a result of the planning and ingenuity of both officers and members alike. The year started off with the traditional Bake Sale at the Open House in mid-October. Following the Halloween party, the Latin Club rested until early December when they produced a Medieval Festival. This joyous occasion bore all the marks of the middle ages, complete with costumes, capons, and an authentic mummers play. Although a huge undertaking, the festival showed that the club could organize and carry out any task. With this ability in mind, they moved to conquer the end MJCL convention, held here at the high school in mid-May. But in between the December Fest and the May convention, the Latin Club maintained the strict pattern instituted by former Latin Clubs. They sampled foreign cuisine, roller-skated, and in general, had a good time. Who says Latin is a dead language???

and productive year under the advisement of Mrs. Mancini. There was the usual Halloween party, enjoyed by all in attendance. For the Christmas festivities, the Italian Club held a happy Christmas party; as could be expected, the bash was a magnificent draw to the underclassmen and upperclassmen alike. The Whole World Celebration and the International Festival were just two of the many events used to broaden the students' scope of Italian and world culture. They had the opportunity to dine upon famous Italian dishes and sample those not-so-famous Italian dishes. These opportunities presented themselves in visits to an Italian restaurant, and also the North End.

The French club had a fantastic year thanks to the help of advisors, Madame Hastings and Monsieur Duhamel. Highlights of the fall included an inter-club Halloween party and two excursions to see "Argent de Poche" and "Roi de coeur". The club tradition of Christmas carolling for the elderly was continued this season. Enthusiastic French Club members strolled the halls of the Rehabilitation Center singing "Radolphe le renne au nez rouge" and other French adaptations! Other activities including an exchange trip to France made for an exciting spring! The French Club is proud to have attracted so many new members this year especially freshmen. We wish "Bonne Chance" to the class of 1982!

Minstrels of a Foreign Song

To the musical accompaniment that they created, the lilting tunes of far-off places, were bellowed out by a fine group of W.H.S. students known as Les Troubadours and Los Companeros. They spread the beautiful word of music all over the world, from hospitals to homes for the elderly, from the United States to the Iron Curtain. What is more important however, is that they sought to bring the spirit of music to a somber world.

The Speech and Debate Club

The Speech and Debate Club is a new activity at W.H.S. and became an important event in just one year. Members of the Club did a lot of their work on WHSR-FM, the high school's radio station. Club members bore the responsibility of preparing and delivering the daily newscasts. They also hosted public affairs talk shows on the station as well. Club members participated in intramural debating group discussions and statewide speech contests. For a new club, the Speech and Debate Club had a tremendously successful year.

The most current songs can be heard as one walks down the hallway towards the Music Department. Electric guitars, saxaphones, and trumpets provide a distinctively modern sound that sets the Jazz Band apart from the other musical clubs at the school. For the Jazz Band, comprised of talented musicians from all four grades, the 1981-1982 school year proved to be a very successful one. Whether just practising or performing in seasonal concerts, Jazz Band members are sure to gain ample musical experience and many hours of enjoyment.

The Winchester High School Concert Choir met each day, second period, to sing a wide variety of music. Their range included sacred, secular, and show tunes. They eagerly anticipated the Winter Concert, an annual February occurence. They travelled the U.S. during an exchange concert, given in the Spring. The accompianists this year were Kathy Shao and Theresa Ducharme. The Concert Choir can look back on 1981-1982 as a year filled with the happy notes of success.

Winchester Pops!!!

The W.H.S. Orchestra, under the direction of Mark Jacobs, has been busy every morning first period, performing all types and styles of music. In addition to preparing music for public performances, they also read through many orchestral selections so that they might become familiar with the standard orchestral literature. By performing, they learned the differences in music from one epoch to another and in this way acquired a deep appreciation of music which will stay with them for the rest of their lives. The Orchestra has performed and will continue to perform in concert programs with the others organizations in the Music Department.

The Math Club at W.H.S. enjoyed a fruitful year of interscholastic competition. The faithful band of followers, giving of their own time and energy, competed around the state in timed mathematical games. The problems were both Euclidean and Algebriac nature, easy for such a combination of minds.

On a diverse track, the Computer Club, independent of the Math Club, functioned rather effectively to inform student members and to enjoy the many uses of the PDP11 system. The members played games, wrote functioning programs for scientific, mathematical and personal use.

Over the Bounding Bay

Winchester High's newly formed sailing club was organized by a group of students who participated in the New England Schools Sailing Association Regatta in the spring of '81. They had so much fun, they decided to join other Greater Boston schools which have their sailing headquarters at Community Boating on the Charles River.

The students sharpened their sailing skills and competed informally from September to November, particularly with Boston College High School. From April to June, more formal races took place.

As more of our accomplished Winchester High sailors join the club, the Sailing Club promises to be a formidable force in future races.

Alpine Patrol

Whether you are a serious skier or just a beginner, the Ski Club offers several exciting trips which may be enjoyed by all. This year, under the guidance of Mr. Miller, forty-four high school students ventured to Sugarloaf

Mountain in Maine where they conquered the challenging trials and withstood the bitter cold. The club also offered several one-day trips such as voyages to Killington Mt. in Vermont and Loon Mt. in New Hampshire. Although skiers did not always take advantage of these trips, they certainly took advantage of the "awesome" ski conditions that prevailed throughout the winter season and late into the spring.

The Winchester High School Model Congress Committee had a very busy year in 1982. The committee put much effort into organizing and running WHS' first Sophomore Model Congress. The Sophomore classes were divided into joint congressional committies where debate raged for two days. The event culminated in a two-period in-school field trip where both houses worked to pass legislation. The project was both an educational and enjoyable experience for all those concerned.

In addition to their work in Winchester, committee members travelled to Livingston, New Jersey and New Rochelle, New York. At these Model Congresses the Winchester High School Model Congress Committee was able to show off their political skills.

With the aid of Margaret Brown, Bart Malio, and advisor, Miss Martin, the committee reached high goals in educating themselves and their peers in legislative processes.

The Science Club had an eventful year in 1981-1982. Under the advisement of Larry Smith, the leadership of President Paul Shawcross, Vice-President Paolo Coppi, and members, they attended many activities. Among these was a trip to the Science Museum, including the Science Frontier, the Lowell lecture series, and the Planeterium shows. They also used the High School's Celestial telescope for astronomical discovery. Indeed throughout the year, the Science Club at W.H.S. has developed itself into a group of inquisitive questioning minds.

WHSR-FM

WHSR-FM has just completed it's twenty-sixth year of service to the Winchester community. This year the station is under the able leadership of Debbie Williams.

On April 1, 1981, WHSR was granted its new frequency, 89.3mhz, however it still operates on 91.9 mhz. The FCC has delayed the changeover to allow all New England stations the opportunity to change frequencies at the same time.

This year forty students actively participated in all aspects of radio production and broadcasting. Each student produces a two-hour weekly show in addition to special events like home football games, town meetings, special assemblies, and election coverage. One hour each day is devoted to local news, sports, weather, and educational programming.

The German National Honor society is a reward for a job well done in the German III course. Only those students with a B or better average are eligible for membership in this intellectual group. They, like their English counterparts, are available to help other German students. Their leader is Ms. Austin known affectionately as Frau. They have contributed a great deal to the understanding of the German language and culture.

Roxbury tutoring is a group of concerned high school students who have dedicated one afternoon a week to tutoring needy inner-city children. Each tutor has a child to whom he teaches the principles of English and Mathematics. However, the significance of the program is for the tutor and the tutee to build a relationship, to become friends. A big smile, a squeeze of the hand, a hug or a slap-me-five are the gestures of affection that make the program worthwhile. Thanks to Mrs. Budd, Mrs. Hitchcock. Father Hastings, Mrs. Suane, Mrs. Dennis, and all the parent volunteers, the Roxbury Tutoring Program has been a great success.

The Reward: N.H.S.

N.H.S. membership is a reward for a job well done! The National Honor Society continued its long tradition of honoring students for their scholastic achievement, leadership, character and service to the school and community. Members offered tutoring help to other students and volunteered for many school activities. This year, one hundred and six seniors earned membership in the National Honor Society and elected as officers: Sonia Stryker, Brian Milauskas, Therese Pothier, and Joe Reid.

Pushing On Without Ever Resting

P.O.W.E.R. is the black and hispanic voice within the student body of Winchester High School. Its aim is to provide support for each other and to promote Black Awareness and respect that might be otherwise overlooked in the small minority within the student body and the community of Winchester. The group under the leadership of President, Ervin Beeman and Vice President, Sean Barnave have done a very successful job this year in fulfilling their goal and wish the best of luck to the members of P.O.W.E.R. in the years to come. A special thanks to Miss Brooks, the club advisor.

Thinkers and Dreamers

The Philosophy Club played the field of entertainment during this year; they showed films and discussed events. The films were part of a series, videotaped by the high school, and increased considerably the membership of the club. The discussions covered such topics as Abortion, Reaganomics, and Theology. The officers this year led the club, and managed to turn the club around from its early downward trend. The revival has begun!

Of Novelists and Poets . . .

The creative writing club is a very unique organization at the Winchester High School in that it does not spend its time planning parties and activities, but rather dedicates its meetings to writing. These writings range from one simple paragraph to a long critical essay. Yet, no matter how long the writing, members of the creative writing club meet each month to simply write and to enjoy themselves doing so. The Creative Writing Club is a very beneficial organization at WHS in that it strengthens the students' ability to write as well as stimulates the students' imagination. Good luck to next year's creative writing club.

It's Miller Time

The Marching Band at W.H.S. is an important student activity for many students. Under the direction of their aspiring leader, Ms. Miller, they have become an integral part of the school. Rising three days a week for a 6:50 practice, and practicing for three hours on Saturday gave the band that polished flair admired by so many people. Among the important dates in the band calendar were the night game against Wakefield, the band breakfasts, and the Thanksgiving Day Game against Woburn. The band also performed at each game with a fabulous half-time show. The memories and legacies created by the band during the past year will survive for many years to come.

Broadway, here we come!

Drama at W.H.S. was at its peak for the 1981-82 season!

Curtain and Cue, under the direction of Joann Stevens, and production assistance of Felicia Hall, staged a fantastic production of John Van Druten's, "I Remember Mama" in the fall. Due to its multiple scene changes, this play was a challenge for both cast and crew members. Nevertheless, John Roll and his stage crew managed to pull everything together. The set was designed by Michael Trabucco, Technical director, Michael O'Shea, and lighting expert, Chris Rolphson. They were irreplaceable behind the scenes. The devotion which each member felt towards his role and the success of the entire play was evident during each of the performances. "I Remember Mama" was a tear-jerking hit at W.H.S. The musical production of "Damn Yankees" also promises to be a smash!

The Student Union

Student Union had its hand in many activities this year. The Class Clean-up Day was a success for everyone, especially the sophomore class which won the coveted Class Trash Award!!! The Welcome Dance took place in September. The Oliver J. Bursey Band played tunes to dance to all night. The Faculty Tea, Carnation Day, International Festival, Class Play Night, and Student Union meetings were all a success. The Committee started a new tradition at W.H.S. — computer dating. Working with the Social Studies Department, the Model Congress Committee staged the first all-Sophomore Congress.

Thank you Miss Martin; Without your experience and patience, nothing would have been fun! Many thanks also to all of the officers who helped make those meetings run smoothly. Good Luck to all of next year's officers!

There was one activity at WHS in which everyone took part. It did not include trying out for it, paying money to join it, or even using school facilities to function it. This activity can be explained in one word — WEEKEND!

When each Friday and Saturday came, the seniors were sure to take advantage of them. There were of course the legitimate activities: basketball games, movies, or various rowdy parties. But on other nights kids simply hung around or cruised the streets of exciting Winchester. Yet, what could be better than a favorite hangout, munchies, drinks, and a bunch of friends. Visits to the quarries, dead-end streets, the golf course, the Bin, and White Hen made the senior weekend nights something special. These two pages are dedicated to the two days of the week that made the other five worth surviving.

The business community of Winchester has played a significant role in all of our lives. As we have grown older many of these establishments have become our employers. Through them we have acquired new skills and taken on new responsibilities. Our experiences and interactions with the business community have helped us all to reach new heights. We would like to thank the businesses of Winchester and all of our patrons for their guidance and support.

There are times in every life when we feel hurt or alone ...

But I believe that these times when we feel lost and all around us seems to be falling apart are really bridges of growth.

We struggle and try to recapture the security of what was, but almost in spite of ourselves, we emerge on the other side with a new understand-a new awareness, a new strength.

There are times when each of us feels that the world around us is falling apart. Murphy's law replaces logic and just about everything goes wrong. Our hopes and aspirations seem false; our attempts to succeed seem in vain. Freak occurrences shatter the security of our world. We contemplate a depression that will affect the lives of millions of people. We contemplate a nuclear war — a third world war that will end all wars . . . as well as all life on earth. Yet it is at these moments that we achieve our greatest successes.

This past year was filled with many such moments of seeming disaster. On an international level 1981-1982 saw the assassination attempt on the life of our President, Ronald Reagan, and the success of such an attempt on Egypt's President Anwar Sadat. It saw the capture of NATO commander General Dozier and the declaration of martial law in Poland. On a local level 1981-1982 saw the multitudes of budget cuts that forced the layoffs of many school teachers, eliminated some academic and extracurricular programs, and reduced consumer services such as fire and police protection as well as medical and financial aid.

But despite the many world-wide problems, each country, each town, each individual reached new heights. We made the best of the worst; we overcame our problems and realized our goals. As a nation we launched the first reusable space craft in history. We made major advances in the development of nuclear power for defense purposes and as a source of energy. As a town we made a conscientious attempt to control the pollution of our water supply, and to minimize the effects of Proposition 2 ½ on the school system and other community organizations. As a school we won many honors and distinctions. Our boys' soccer team was Middlesex League co-champs; our football team beat Woburn for the second consecutive year; our school newspaper, the Red and Black, again won the Columbia Scholastic Press award: and our Curtain and Cue drama club received standing ovations for their productions "I Remember Mama". and "Damn Yankees." We welcomed foreign students from Norway and celebrated Valentine's Day with the traditional sale of carnations. As a class we shared many special events. The Semi, Class Day, and the Prom are perhaps the best remembered for they brought us together in new and different ways. Our Senior year was a time to enjoy the company of friends, and to form goals for the future of our lives. It was a time of growth, a time of maturation, and in a way a time of sadness. Although we were all eager to be free from WHS and to explore the world around us, we were sad to leave the many good friends we had made here. But we cannot remain young forever. Sooner or later the cares and responsibilities of adult life will catch up with us. We will be on our own then, with nothing to fall back upon. We will have only our strength to rely on and we must, ourselves, strive toward our goals in life. The road to success won't be easy, but . . .

... we must go through the pain and the struggle in order to grow and reach new heights.

— Sue Mitchell
